SALESMAN KILLED, SLAYER ATTEMPTS TO END OWN LIFE

Quarrel Over Sale of Auto
Believed by Police To Have Caused Slaying of
B. G. Harris, 29; Note
Fails To Give Clue.

GRADY CRAWFORD DYING AT HOSPITAL

Tragedy at Fourteenth-
Spring Streets Witnessed;
Crawford Shoots
Self in Near-by Woods.

One man was dead and another was dying at Grady hospital Thursday night following a quarrel. Police believed that the shooting and attempted suicide were the result of an argument over the sale of an automobile.

B. G. Harris, 29, of 360 Fourteenth street, N. W., died shortly after 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at Grady from a bullet wound in the chest. He said in a dying statement that Grady Crawford, of 852 State street, shot him. In another part of the hospital, Crawford was at the point of death from bullet wounds in the chest and throat, said to have been self-inflicted.

Before he died Harris, a car salesman for the Arthur M. Reid Motor Company, indicated that the argument was over the sale of a car, and told police that the reason was in his overcoat pocket. In the pocket was a bill of sale to an "S. H. Crawford," of 852 State street, for a small coupe, acknowledging receipt of $30 in cash as payment.

Shooting Witnessed.
The shooting of Harris occurred at Fourteenth and Spring streets. A few minutes later Crawford was found critically wounded in a clump of weeds not far from that intersection. H. C. Taylor, of 1208 Techwood drive, was a witness to the shooting of Harris. He told police that a small coupe stopped on Fourteenth street and that a man later identified as Crawford crawled out from under the steering wheel, went to the other side of the car and as Harris opened the door fired. He then turned and ran into the woods, said Taylor.

A. Evans, organist at the Paramount theater, was passing and he took the wounded man to the hospital. A .32 caliber automatic was used. When police sought Crawford they found him in the hospital in a critical condition from supposedly self-inflicted wounds. He refused to talk. Police were puzzled concerning the trouble between the two men because of a note found on Crawford addressed to his wife, and indicating that he had

Clayton Murder Jury Hears Witnesses Tell of Fights

Captain Roy V. Clayton, alleged fraticide, was truly his brother's keeper, loving him "better than anything else on earth," the veteran fireman told a jury early Thursday night in Fulton superior court after the state sought to show by eye-witness testimony, that Clayton had fought with C. C. Clayton, the brother, shortly before the latter's death. In an hour-and-a-half statement, Clayton told the jury that he had been brother and father to his only brother, always taking care of him, paying his bills and advising him. The fire-fighter denied boxing, his brother, saying that they had not had fights since they were boys. Captain Clayton claimed that C. C. Clayton was injured fatally when he fell off the bed several times while intoxicated. The defense introduced W. D. Burge and Louis Sikes, who testified that they saw C. C. Clayton after an alleged fight described by eye-witnesses, and that C. C. Clayton appeared to be all right, although intoxicated. S. J. Sherman, contractor, testified that on the day before Clayton received his fatal injuries he was talking to Clayton when the fire captain came up and struck Clayton, saying "Drunk again." Clayton begged his brother, "Don't hit me. You know I won't fight with you. . . I'm just

G. O. P. IS ACCUSED OF BALLOON BUYING

Intimidation of Roosevelt
Voters Laid to Pennsylvania
Republicans.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Testimony that republican organization workers bought votes, intimidated Roosevelt voters, gave illegal assistance to citizens and ran the recent election in a high-handed manner was given today before the house committee on campaign expenditures.

The committee came here to investigate the election, so far as it related to the presidency and congressmen, at the instance of S. David Wilson, manager of the Roosevelt Independent League, of Philadelphia. Many witnesses passed before the committee and testified to what they said were their experiences on election day in their homes, precincts, or divisions, as they are called in Philadelphia. Specific instances of alleged vote-buying were testified to by two negroes, one a woman.

25 to 50 Cents a Vote.
Both told the committee that State Representative Clinton A. Sowers, in the twentieth ward, had handed out money. Aaron Hilton, one of the negro witnesses, said that about 200 votes were bought in the division. The price was 25 to 50 cents, he said.

The negro woman, Willie Cook, testified that when she went behind the curtain of the voting machine, someone pulled the lever for her. Then, she said, somebody coming out. "Somebody pushed a one-dollar bill toward me and then a one-dollar bill was put in my hand."

"What did they put a one-dollar bill in your hand for?" asked Representative Heartill Ragon, democrat. "That was for the vote," she said.

VON HINDENBURG SEEKING LEADER ALL CAN ACCEPT

Schnee, Bracht, Von Gayl,
Strasser and Schacht
Among Those Considered for Chancellor's Post.

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Chancellor Franz Von Papen, who has directed the German government for a little less than six months, resigned today, taking, his whole cabinet out with him, in the face of almost unanimous opposition in the new reichstag. He goes out to make room for others in an effort to realize President Von Hindenburg's ideal of a cabinet of "national concentration" appointed by and primarily responsible to the president but supported or at least tolerated by a majority of the reichstag. The communiqué announcing the resignation said the cabinet had retired because "it wishes to clear the way for the president so that he, as the leader of the nation and with the high authority of his office, may bring about the consolidation of all truly national forces which alone can assure Germany's future."

Under the present conditions the government believes it acts in the interests of the fatherland if it returns its offices to the president. In so doing it acts in accordance with the principle of the consolidation of all truly national forces which alone can assure Germany's future.

Accepts Resignations.
The president accepted the resignations. His first move probably will be to appeal personally to the several party leaders. The next few days will show whether he can find a man who can command both his confidence and that of the parliament.

Such an appointee must agree to continue Germany's foreign policy as it is conducted at present and to carry out at least that portion of Chancellor Von Papen's economic program designed to reduce unemployment.

These two matters, it is said, are especially important to the president, and nobody who doesn't see these things as his chief duty can expect an appointment as chancellor.

Should he fail to find a more acceptable man than the retiring chancellor, of course he can reappoint Colonel Von Papen, but with the knowledge that should he do so he would have to invest him with dictatorial powers against a hostile reichstag.

All the party leaders appear to agree that the new cabinet must be endowed with powers to act without too much parliamentary interference, especially the necessity for the reichstag must continue to function as the agency through which the rank and file of the people may have their say.

Would End Crisis.
The president desires to end this cabinet crisis as quickly as possible, but probably he will take his time as usual in the matter of the decision, reaching his decision in the solitude of his own study.

His attitude toward Adolf Hitler, the socialist leader, is not known, but Hitler informed Chancellor Von Papen by letter yesterday that there could be no dealings between them and that he would continue to work for the restoration of the republic.

The political gossips have been busy for days picking out possible successors and cabinet members. The name of Heinrich Schnee, who spent years in the colonial service and who was the German member of the Lytton commission to Manchuria, is frequently mentioned. He resigned from

Operator Sponsored Theater Bomb Plot, Alleged Aids Tell Jury at Means Trial

J. Royce Means, motion picture operator who is on trial in connection with the bombing of the Georgia theater, is shown above with his wife. He listened to the testimony of T. A. Carmichael, a co-defendant who has turned state's evidence, who is shown in the insert. Staff photo by Sandy Sanders.

Efforts to fix responsibility for the Georgia theater bomb explosion on J. Royce Means, motion picture operator, were made Thursday by the state in Means' trial before Judge R. Earl Camp of Dublin in a special division of Fulton superior court, on a charge of assault with intent to murder. T. A. Carmichael, a grocery clerk, said that Means furnished the money to buy materials for the bomb and to hire a man to place it in the theater. Means wanted to know what he was going to testify, and when he replied that he did not know, Means grabbed him by the throat and asked if he was going to "swear lies." Means said, "On Mosley's answer that he did not know," Means asked if "you believe I am guilty or not guilty?" Mosley said that, under threat, he replied that "you are not guilty."

BRITISH TAKE STEP TO PACIFY BERLIN

London Offers Plan at Geneva Calculated to Satisfy German Demand

BY F. I. LIPSEY JR.
GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Great Britain made a definite move today to bring Germany back into the disarmament conference today when Sir John Simon, the British foreign secretary, submitted to the conference bureau a plan designed to satisfy the German demand for arms equality.

His proposals approached the problem from an entirely different angle from that taken by the French plan submitted last week, but the conferees were hopeful that a combination of the principles of both might provide a basis on which the necessary compromise could be reached.

Like the French proposal, the British contribution to the conference was a plan for bringing Germany back to the conference table.

The British plan for solving the economy issue upon four points. First, it provides for reaffirmation of the League of Nations.

Second, it provides for the establishment of a federal fact-finding bureau to aid the government, states and cities and the courts in dealing with public utilities, and stricter regulation as between utilities and holding companies were introduced for study today before the annual convention of the National Association of Railroads and Utilities Commissioners.

Hugh White, of the Alabama utilities commission, introduced the measure asking for the federal fact-finding bureau, and the committee on the resolution which was referred to the executive committee, said:

"There are some of us who have been on record in this association for several years as being very strongly of the opinion that utility holding companies and the law not only may be regulated but in the public interest should be regulated at least in the matter of their securities issues."

"The last 12 months have furnished a financial collapse in the case of the Inland companies, which, the magnitude of losses to stockholders is unsurpassed in ancient or modern times."

The resolution recommending extensive state regulation of utilities and their holding companies was presented by Mayland S. Morse, of the New Hampshire commission. It also was referred to the executive committee.

The association voted to hold next year's meeting at Cincinnati. San Juan, Porto Rico, with an invitation extended by the legislature, was second in the voting.

Speaking on the same program, Governor Joseph Ely, of Massachusetts, said that if "southern textile states and others" did not raise their labor legislation standards toward the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the entire country would be at their mercy.

ROOSEVELT TO TURN SOUTH FROM CAPITAL

ALBANY, Nov. 17.—President-elect Roosevelt plans to proceed directly from Washington to his Georgia home at Warm Springs. The White House conversations are not expected to require more than a few hours, but the governor indicates today that he probably would remain overnight at the capital, leaving for Georgia early Wednesday morning, arriving in Georgia that night. Should he decide to leave the capital Tuesday night he would reach his adopted state early Wednesday morning.

BY JOHN F. CHESTER.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Engrossing himself in the two great problems facing the federal government—debts and a balanced budget—President Hoover today arranged with President-elect Roosevelt to meet with him next Tuesday to discuss these subjects and then called a bipartisan parley with congressional leaders for the next day.

In the early afternoon, while the national capital buzzed with war debt and budget talk, the president lifted the now-historic telephone on his desk to hear his successor-elect say he would reach Washington at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon and would go directly to the executive offices.

Governor Roosevelt will have with him at the White House a Columbia University professor and authority on economics, Raymond Moley, who was one of the president-elect's advisors throughout the campaign, and one who is very much interested in the European war debt situation.

President Hoover will have as his advisor, Secretary Mills. Later, after most of official Washington had quit work for the day, Mr. Hoover summoned the three ranking republicans and democrats—members of the senate finance committee and the house ways and means committee to meet with him Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock "to discuss questions of foreign debt."

Earlier, Ambassadors Claudel, of

SCHOOL BOARD CUT MOVE IS DEFEATED

Committee Adverses Proposes To Divorce Board From Council.

Adversing proposals to reduce the present 14-member Atlanta board of education to a body of five and to divorce the board from council by providing that 7 of the 13 mills levied as ad valorem taxes be diverted into the school treasury, a session of special committee of the board Thursday afternoon was featured by sharp personal exchanges.

Alderman Ed A. Gilliam, chairman of council's school committee, and J. Ira Harrelson, president of the board, were the principals in the oral exchange. Gilliam proposed both measures, and Harrelson attacked his motives.

"If the 7-mill division will give the school department between $300,000 and $400,000 a year more than formerly, would not this body approve it?" Gilliam asked Harrelson.

Harrelson, Gilliam Clash. "What will other departments do with the reduced revenue which this would entail?" Harrelson countered. "Are you interested in other departments?" Gilliam retorted.

"Yes, I would not like to see them suffer," Harrelson said. "I did not know that," Gilliam said. "I question the motives of the author of this paper," Harrelson told the committee. "It appears to me that he would not bring any measure designed for the best interests of the schools after the manner we last week (referring to a statement by the alderman that "if the board cannot operate schools, others can and will"). I assure you that my purpose is to divorce the schools from council and to give the schools sufficient monies to operate schools on," Gilliam said. "I am hurt to the core," Harrelson said. "I thought the attack on me unwarranted."

"This is not a time for personalities; we should do the best thing for the schools and the children of Atlanta," Gilliam said.

Gilliam To Go Before Council. After the committee had turned down the proposal to reduce the board of education and had approved a suggestion of Commissioner John T. Davis "that council be reduced one member from each of the 13 wards and that the $50 a month paid to the councilmen, be directed to pay the board of education member," Gilliam said he would offer his measure to council Monday afternoon for sanction of that body and without the approval of the board.

Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools, hit the proposal to limit the division to seven mills for school purposes and suggested that a school district embracing metropolitan Atlanta should be formed.

In turning down the proposal to divorce the board, members in the main agreed that they would procure money under present assessment values, but held out for a minimum guarantee. Gilliam attributed this attitude to a desire to be independent, but "unwilling to pay for the independence to such an extent that the board could not return to council in the event of an emergency."

Harrelson attacked utility companies and others on what he said was failure to pay on intangibles. He said the city would have plenty of money if an intangible, or sales tax could be levied by the board of education. He suggested that council guarantee $80 a year per pupil based on the average daily attendance to insure that the seven mills would be sufficient.

COUNTY EXPANSION OF WELFARE WORK NOTED IN SURVEY

Assumption of responsibility in connection with public welfare work is rapidly increasing among the counties of Georgia, the triennial report of the state department of public welfare, made public Thursday by Miss Gay D. Shoppers, executive secretary of the department, reveals.

Covering the years 1929, 1930 and 1931, the report was prepared by Miss Shoppers and Miss Wilma Van Dusseldorf, editor of the department bulletin. It will be presented to the state board of control, which on January 1, this year, assumed charge of the department.

In 1929 the report shows that there were only 66 counties in the state having some sort of part-time or fully organized welfare work under either paid or volunteer workers. In 1930 the number of counties increased to 106 and in 1931 a further increase to 130 counties was noted.

Increased activity on the part of local groups also was noted in the great gain in appeals from local organizations to the state department for assistance and guidance. The report says, pointing out that in 1929 there were only 31 such appeals; in 1930 only 42, and in 1931 a total of 58, an increase of more than 100 per cent in one year.

The report also gives in exhaustive detail a summary of the work performed by the department during the last three years.

Faces Assault Charge.

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 17. (P)—A charge of assault to murder was filed late today against O. H. Boone, filling station operator, following a gun battle last night between Boone and Arthur J. "Tommy" Thomas, sergeant-at-arms of the state house of representatives. Thomas was shot in the wrist, officers reported.

2,000 Boy Scouts To Give Big Show At Fourth Annual Circus Tonight

Atlanta Boy Scouts tonight will present their fourth annual circus at the city auditorium, with 2,000 boys participating.

Entry lists for the inter-troop events had been completed Thursday night and directors of the various events had received word that all is in readiness for the best circus ever to be held.

Scout headquarters in the Glenn building buzzed yesterday as final details were whipped into shape. Scouts dashed here and there making last-minute preparations during the late afternoon.

C. H. ("Baldy") Mitchell, scoutmaster at Bolton, will be in charge of the chariot race, which will be one of the feature events. He reported the following entries:

Troop 1, Bolton; Troops 1 and 7, Decatur; Troop 1, Edgewood; Troop 1, College Park; Troop 1, Peachtree Heights; Troops 12, 13, 14, 17, 25, 31, 34, 35, 53 and 97, Atlanta.

Troops that will participate in the equipment race, directed by J. G. Wilkins and Robert Myers, are: One, Bolton; 1, Peachtree Heights; 2 and 3, Hapeville; 12, 15, 19, 20, 39, 42, 50 and 97, Atlanta.

Arthur Thorpe will be in charge of log-chopping, with Troop 1, Bolton; 1, Peachtree Heights; 2 and 3, Hapeville; 6, 15, 25, 34, 37 and 42, Atlanta competing.

Wall-scaling will be directed by W. C. Hendrix. The following troops have entered this event: 1, Bolton; 1, Peachtree Heights; 7, Decatur; 34, 35, 64 and 100, Atlanta.

The circus this year is sponsored by the Scouters' Club, of which C. H. Westin is president. Instead of the Atlanta council, as heretofore, for the reason that the Scouters—scoutmasters, troop committee men and other officials—are sponsoring this year's circus, it is expected that interest will be wider and attendance larger than ever before.

DODGE MEN MEET TODAY IN ATLANTA

Executives, dealers and others of the Dodge Brothers Corporation, automobile manufacturers, representing the southeast, will meet in a regional conference at the Biltmore hotel this morning.

At this conference plans will be laid for advertising and sales promotion for the coming year.

George T. Curry, regional manager, will preside over the meeting, which will end tonight.

Among the executives of the company who will attend will be Frank Sim, advertising manager; C. G. Hall, sales promotion manager, and W. R. Lanford, director of service.

A large attendance of dealers in the southeastern region is expected at the meeting. Plans call for an aggressive campaign by the company next year, and details will be considered at today's session.

Warmer Weather To Accompany Rain

Rain will accompany rising temperatures today, according to George W. Mindling, United States forecaster. Temperatures are expected to range from 36 degrees to 50 degrees or higher. A cloudy area, sweeping in from the southeast, will bring the dampness, the observer said.

Temperatures Thursday ranged from 30 to 45 degrees. The expected cold wave died down somewhere on the way to Atlanta, and warming conditions greeted Atlantans Thursday. The day was cloudy, with low-hanging smoke causing poor visibility. Low-hanging clouds were said to have been responsible for the check on the cold wave.

Cadets Overcome

GULFPORT, Miss., Nov. 17.—(AP) Several cadets at the Gulf Coast Military Academy were overcome by smoke here last night when a two-story frame structure housing a military company and the band company was destroyed by fire. The students were revived. The damage was estimated at $25,000.

UTILITY DIFFICULTIES AIRED AT CONFERENCE

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Railroad and utility commissioners from over the country turned their attention to widespread demands for lower utility rates today and heard several speakers tell of the utilities difficulties.

Harold J. Waple, of Michigan, told the forty-fourth annual convention of the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners that the demand for lower utility rates "is the natural reaction of the economic crisis through which the nation is passing."

Morgan Optimistic
On Return to U. S.
NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—J. Pierpont Morgan returned from a European trip today aboard the Europa.

The financier abandoned his silence long enough to say he'd found "a more hopeful attitude" in Europe toward the general outlook. The financier was asked if he would advance a reason for optimism.

WISDOM TO HEAD AUDITORS' GROUP

Georgia Official Is Honored at Richmond Convention.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Sol Levitan, retiring state treasurer of Wisconsin, celebrated his life of the Association of State Treasurers, Auditors and Comptrollers by kissing two stenographers.

Delegates roared their approval as Mr. Levitan said he regretted "there aren't any more mamas present."

Tom Wisdom, auditor for the state of Georgia, was chosen president of the organization, and Chicago was selected as the 1933 convention city. Next year's convention will be held September 5 to 7.

E. D. Hayford, auditor of Maine, was named first vice president; M. J. Desmond, deputy auditor of Minnesota, second vice president; Charles A. Waters, auditor of Pennsylvania, third vice president; L. A. Caruthers, federal census bureau, fourth vice president; E. R. Stewart, auditor of Maryland, secretary, and T. Coleman Andrews, auditor of Virginia, treasurer.

Mr. Levitan, who was swept out of office on the democratic landslide of November 8, told the association he deeply appreciated the honor accorded him today, especially since it was proposed by two democrats, Carl White, former auditor of Mississippi, and Mr. Andrews, the 70-year-old official then further showed his appreciation by kissing the two young women.

His face was not slapped. The association at its closing session went on record as opposing the federal tax on gasoline. It came with the defeat of a motion picture by W. H. Puryear, superintendent of account of Tennessee, proposing that the convention memorialize congress urging the continuance of the federal tax on liquid motor fuels.

Tom Wisdom, elected president of the National Association of State Comptrollers, Treasurers and Auditors Thursday at its annual convention at Richmond, has been state auditor of Georgia for two years and previously had served for nine years as auditor of the state department of education. Mr. Wisdom has been second vice president of the national association. He is a native of Harris county and before becoming connected with the state department of education had served for many years as Harris county superintendent of schools.

Mr. Wisdom lives at 690 Durant place, N. E.

BAKING COMPANY ANNOUNCES CONTEST

The Atlanta Baking Company announced over radio station WGST the winners in its novel cash prize contest. The contest was to fill in the missing words in a certain story, read over the radio, and found in each loaf of Bamy bread. The story is read each Sunday night over WGST at 6:45 o'clock. There is a different story each week.

In addition to the novel contest, the Atlanta Baking Company present the Singing Baker with his modern tunes.

ARKANSAS MAY SUE LIQUIDATOR FOR FUNDS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Charging the bank liquidation records of Lieutenant Governor Lawrence E. Wilson were handled in "an incompetent, inaccurate and inadequate manner," State Bank Examiner H. A. Daugherty today recommended to State Comptroller Griffin Smith that steps be taken immediately to recover $10,500 from Wilson and his bondsmen to cover alleged misuses of funds.

LAST OF PIANKESHAW IS BURIED IN OKLAHOMA

MIAMI, Okla., Nov. 17.—(AP)—The Piankeshaw, who astounded De Soto because they were the first Indians he ever met who didn't want to fight, are gone.

The last Piankeshaw fullblood, known by his vanished people as "Te-wah-guah-ke-mon-goh," or The Storm, because he was born in one, but just "Uncle George" Finley to his many white friends, was buried here today.

Ex-Slaves To Meet.

Plans are being formulated for the twenty-third anniversary of the Ex-Slave Association to be held during the month of December, according to an announcement Thursday by B. R. ## Marketing Society To Hear Mitchell

W. L. Mitchell, marketing expert of the department of commerce, will address the November meeting of the Atlanta Marketing Society at a dinner to be held at 9:30 o'clock tonight at the Atlanta Athletic Club. His subject will be "Sources of Marketing Information."

Mr. Mitchell has devoted the past 10 years to the actual work of collecting marketing information, and making it available to the businessmen of the United States and his work has taken him into many foreign countries. He is head of the department of commerce office here. The meetings of the marketing society are open to the business public and all executives of retail, wholesale or manufacturing establishments are welcome. Reservations may be made by calling Walnut 7812.

PLEA OF GALLOWAY TO BE HEARD DEC. 5

The application for a pardon filed by Richard Galloway, Atlanta youth serving a life sentence for murder in connection with the deaths of Willard Smith and E. L. Peek in attempted holdups here four years ago has been set for hearing by the prison commission on December 5, it was announced Thursday.

Galloway is serving his sentence at the state prison farm at Milledgeville. The prison commission has received notice from Solicitor-General John A. Boykin that he will oppose the pardon. Galloway will be represented by the law firm of Arnold, Arnold & Gambrill.

EAST POINT MAYOR SEEKS TO END BLASTS

Cooperation of all citizens of Fulton county in putting a stop to the campaign of sabotage against the Georgia Power Company was urged Thursday in a statement issued by Mayor J. A. Ragsdale, of East Point. The Fulton county grand jury, at today's session, is expected to continue its investigation of dynamite thefts and the blasting of power company high-tension towers.

Citizens who become suspicious of prowlers around the lines of the power company should report to an officer immediately, such action tending to eliminate a great deal of danger and inconvenience to the public, Mayor Ragsdale said.

Warrant for Insult Is Rushed to Greece

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(UP)—The federal government moved swiftly tonight to bring Samuel Insull Sr., former Chicago multi-millionaire, back from Greece to face embezzlement charges growing out of the collapse of his vast utilities empire.

A warrant for his arrest under the recently executed extradition treaty with Greece was sent to the United States legation in Athens by the state department a few hours after the necessary papers demanding his return had been received from Governor Emmerson, of Illinois.

Sturdivant's Son Improves; Refuses To Talk of Shooting

Just outside the room in which young T. O. Sturdivant, son of the Atlanta chief of police, lies fighting for the life he tried to take Wednesday, Miss Georgia Kauertz, sweetheart of wounded youth, Thursday kept watch to be of any cheer possible. Miss Kauertz is shown with Sturdivant's nurse. The girl was said to have been of real assistance in cheering him when she was permitted in the room. Staff photo by Kenneth Rogers.

T. O. Sturdivant Jr., 18-year-old son of the chief of police, was reported still to be in a critical condition at Grady hospital Thursday night, but physicians noted some improvement during the day.

Hospital attaches said there is a chance for recovery unless pneumonia sets in. Though conscious, he refused to reveal any motive for shooting himself.

His father, who was out of the city, rushed here by plane from Valdosta and collapsed at home after a visit to his son's bedside Wednesday night. Inquiry at his home on Rosewood drive Thursday revealed that Chief Sturdivant was resting well though still suffering from the shock of the incident. The boy is his only son.

at the hospital it was stated that the presence of Miss Georgia Kauertz, 17, daughter of Mrs. K. F. Rosendahl,

UPRISING FORECAST AGAINST TAMMANY

Republicans Predict Acting Mayor McKee Will Lead Revolt at Polls.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—An uprising against Tammany control of the New York city government, with Acting Mayor Joseph V. McKee leading the way, was seen in many quarters tonight.

McKee himself stirred up the political speculation with an address last night before the state chamber of commerce in which he called for a "change," and declared voters are "sick and tired" of present conditions.

Several republican leaders who praised the talk were among those who predicted McKee would lead the battle by running as a fusion candidate against the Tammany organization candidate for mayor next November.

In a telegram to McKee congratulating him on his speech Samuel Seabury, who directed the legislative investigation of the Tammany-controlled government, said:

"It is surely time that an official of our city should speak out as you have spoken. The fact that you have done so will encourage others whose fears have kept them silent for so long a time.

"If you keep on in this way, it cannot be long before the Currys, McCooys and others who are responsible for the conditions which you describe will be driven from control, and a better day dawn for our city."

John F. Curry, leader of Tammany, and John H. McCooey, who is allied with Curry as democratic leader in Brooklyn, made no comment, either on McKee's talk or Seabury's telegram.

The Sun said McKee, in that speech, had "pointed the way for a crusade of New York citizens against Tammany misrule of the municipal government," that a "popular uprising is at hand."

"The most logical interpretation placed on the mayor's speech," that paper added, "was that it amounted to a declaration of war on Tammany Hall; that he had broken completely and irrevocably with Tammany, and that he now becomes the outstanding candidate for mayor next November on an independent or fusion ticket."

Claim Examiner.

Facsimile of a check for $1,000 which the North American Accident Insurance Company paid to the estate of Joseph B. Jones through The Constitution. Mr. Jones and his wife were killed in an accident on Stewart avenue. Others were seriously injured.

On Wednesday night, October 12, would not have been available for his estate.

On February 10 Mr. Jones subscribed for the daily and Sunday Constitution in connection with the travel and pedestrian accident insurance feature offered by The Atlanta Constitution.

Proof of death and claim were filed by the administratrix on November 5. The check was made out by the North American Accident Insurance Company for $1,000 at Chicago on November 8, and was delivered and accepted in Atlanta on November 15.

This accident was prominently mentioned by all of the Atlanta newspapers, and will be remembered by the readers of this item. The first thought is, that it pays to be a subscriber to The Atlanta Constitution in connection with the accident insurance feature which it offers to its subscribers.

Mr. Jones became a new subscriber on February 10 and took out the insurance on the installment plan, agreeing to pay 20 cents per week for five consecutive weeks. Had he not been thoughtful enough to subscribe for The Atlanta Constitution in connection with the insurance feature, this $1,000

What Is Provided.

The policy The Constitution offers you provides for payment of sums ranging downward from $10,000 for travel, $1,000 for auto and pedestrian deaths resulting from certain specified accidents, heavy sums for permanent injuries, and $10 weekly indemnity for total disability resulting from the accidents set forth in the policy. All this for only $1 registration fee—just about 2 cents a week.

The policy is issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company of Chicago, Ill. The reliability of this concern is proved by the fact that already more than $5,000,000 in cash has been paid on claims to Constitution policyholders.

This insurance is offered to old and new subscribers alike. One who is now taking the daily and Sunday Constitution, or will subscribe for same through carrier in Atlanta or suburbs, through an out-of-town carrier or dealer, paying for the paper weekly, monthly, or otherwise, is a subscriber and is eligible.

Paid-in-advance mail subscribers can also have this insurance by paying the $1 registration fee in advance can pay 20 cents registration fee with the application and 20 cents for five consecutive weeks thereafter in addition in sending application for insurance.

RANKIN TO FIGHT FOR SPEAKERSHIP

Mississippians Enter Lists Against Rainey, of Illinois.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The contest over the speakership in the new congress was enlivened today by a statement from Representative Rankin, of Mississippi, a candidate, in which he said he would make his "appeal to the untrammelled, unbiased members of the next house from all sections of the country."

Rankin and Representative Rainey, of Illinois, the democratic floor leader, have formally announced their candidacy. Representatives Byrns, of Tennessee; McDuffie and Bankhead, of Alabama, and O'Connor, of New York, also are considered candidates by their colleagues but have not yet announced.

John N. Garner, of Texas, will vacate the speakership March 4, when he becomes vice president. Democratic members-elect to the new house will caucus probably in March to nominate his successor.

In his statement, Rankin said he was surprised at reports to the effect that "Representative Rainey, of Illinois, another announced candidate for the speakership, had stated publicly that he was 'confident of support from the democrats of the northern states,' and that Representatives Byrns and McDuffie, both tentative candidates for speaker, had been to New York soliciting the support of John F. Curry, Tammany leader, in the speakership contest."

Curry's friends said he was in Washington today but not in connection with the speakership. They said he was here on a private matter.

"In my fight for the speakership I shall make no sectional appeal," Rankin said. "The democratic party is a national organization. In fact it is the only national party we have. It represents every section of our country. If I had to win the speakership by appealing to sectionalism, I would withdraw from the race..."

Held for Murder.

SEARCY, Ark., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Pleading self-defense, D. A. Scholes, 45, of St. Louis, was jailed and charged today with first-degree murder for the slaying last night of Alvin Wood, 45, of Little Rock, during a hunting trip at Big Hurricane lake east of here. Officers said they learned a quarrel preceded the shooting.

Put more Sunshine Days on your calendar

HOW many days in the month do you feel your best? Two or three? A dozen? You can add to the "sunshine days" by simply obeying nature's laws.

An important law of nature is regular elimination. And today, you can avoid common constipation by eating a delicious cereal.

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to aid regularity. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that in leafy vegetables. In addition, ALL-BRAN contains twice as much blood-building iron as an equal weight of beef liver. Special cooking, flavoring and krumbling processes make Kellogg's ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable.

You will find it far more pleasant to enjoy a cereal in place of taking patent medicines. Much wiser too. Two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily will overcome most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. In the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

"When you're healthy, you're happy"

"How you feel—and how well you look—depends largely upon the food you eat. Be sure your diet is balanced—with sufficient 'bulk' to promote regularity."

W. K. Kellogg

Russia's Faith in God Still Lives, M. Ashby Jones Says in Lecture

The tragedy of the Russian revolt against the church lay in the fact that the soviet leaders had neither the inclination nor the knowledge to reveal to the people a God different from the God of the czars, Dr. M. Ashby Jones declared Thursday at the Piedmont Driving Club in his discussion of "Religion and the Red Revolution."

They began at once what has been known as the "atheistic drive." Officially, at first, they proclaimed freedom in religious matters. While, in line with their communistic program, the government took over all church property, the great bulk of the church houses were allowed to be used by their congregations. The orthodox church, however, was thoroughly committed to the cause of the old regime, and unquestionably many, if not the great majority of its priesthood had aided the "white Russians" in the civil war, and were guilty of participation in many of the counter-revolutionary plots after that war.

Religious Leaders Persisted.

"Perhaps the most impossible of all tasks is to destroy the faith of men in the existence of some God, and to blot out their religious aspirations. Immediately after the establishment of the soviet government, a reform church was set up, which accepted the revolution. This organization introduced many changes, among others the introduction of a pulpit. A new type of religious leader appeared. He entered the old churches, and from its newly erected pulpits, began to proclaim a God whose revelations were in harmony with modern science, and whose teachings were in harmony with the highest standards of social welfare. The people crowded the buildings to hear. At the same time the Protestants, who had been persecuted and suppressed under the czars, awakened into vital activity. They began evangelistic campaigns all over Russia, which rivaled in their success the Moody meetings of the last century in our country. They organized the young people into societies, and enlisted them in a variety of social welfare work.

"These religious revivals shocked and alarmed the government. Communism to succeed must become a crusade, enlisting and concentrating all the thought and enthusiasm of the people. This great religious movement distracted the attention of the people, and turned the tide of their emotions in another direction. These societies of young people were particularly hostile to their purpose of training the youth, because they rivaled in numbers and interest their own organizations of "young crusaders" and young communists. These new religious movements, too, were sympathetically, and sometimes organically, linked with religious organizations in capitalist countries, and in their teachings recognized no class distinctions.

People Would Not Yield.

Thus the war against God became a definite war against religious organizations and a definite persecution of the members and ministers. An order was promulgated that religious organizations would only be allowed to use those religious forms and methods which they used before the revolution. This removed at once the pulpit from the old orthodox churches and was a death blow to the "living church." No priest or minister would be allowed to preach or serve at more than one place. This was a blow at the evangelistic activities of the Protestants. They also forbade the organization of any subsidiary societies, or participation of any churches in any social work. The government took over a great many of the church houses and made them into social centers of great attraction. Here, as everywhere, they carry on a definite atheistic propaganda.

"Of course, the people would not easily yield their religious rights, and there followed a shrewd and terrible persecution by the government. Many preachers and priests of all classes were imprisoned, and others sent to Siberia. Churches were broken up, some of the houses destroyed, and others turned to social uses. The

STUDENTS AT EMORY HEAR N. Y. REPORTER

Experiences of newspapermen in covering unique assignments were related to journalism students at Emory University Thursday afternoon by Charles S. Folz, reporter on the New York Herald-Tribune, who is in Atlanta on a short vacation.

Although he has been on the staff of the Herald-Tribune for only two years, Mr. Folz has received a number of major assignments and has been responsible for several "scops." He covered the trial of Senator James J. Davis on lottery charges, the 125th Street Ferry explosion, and the gangster, Spillane, intermediary in the Lindbergh kidnapping. He is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Timmerman, on Harvard road. He will return to his home in Lancaster, Pa., at the end of the week, and then to New York.

Chancellor Frank H. Dodge granted a decree in each case.

FARM EDITOR PLEADS FOR 'HONEST DOLLAR'

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Dr. Clarence Poe, of Raleigh, N. C., editor of the Progressive Farmer, told the National Grange here today that agricultural America is not asking for "printing press money," but does "expect an honest dollar."

"The farmers of America are asking only for a money system stabilized on the basis of the average purchasing power of a dollar in the years 1920-30, when most of America's staggering burden of public and private debt was created," Poe said.

Dr. Poe said all business had suffered "from the present disastrous situation, but agriculture more than any other industry, because the price of farm products has dropped out of proportion to all other commodities."

"Present conditions in America justify the breaking of all precedents in the matter of loans, debts and currency," he said. "Congress and the president have shown themselves ready to break precedents in the matter of loans, debts and currency, just alike to creditors and debtors."

Governor O. Max Gardner, of North Carolina, told the convention tonight that "we must find and apply new remedies," if "we are to save the democratic civilization of our people."

Dr. Poe said the farmer's demand for markets and relief from taxes "is the most fundamental need of the American farmer today."

U. Benton Blacklock, president of the American Cotton Co-operative Association, told the delegates the co-operative was ready to join with all other farm organizations in any movement for the betterment of American conditions.

GEORGE GETS U. S. AID FOR PEANUT GROWERS

Crops To Be Accepted at Market Price From Seed Fund Borrowers.

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Following a call at the department of agriculture today by Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, Secretary Arthur M. Hyde issued instructions for field inspectors of the department's seed loan office to accept peanuts when graded and insured at the market price and to carry them for the benefit of southern farmers who borrowed money from the government's seed loan fund during the current year.

Senator George also was emphatic in his demand that peanut growers be permitted to collateralize their loans on a basis of $40 a ton, but Secretary Hyde would not agree to any such arrangement.

But instructions by the secretary for his agents to accept peanuts at their market value will make it possible for the farmers to carry their peanuts without being compelled to offer them at the present low market price. The Georgia senator explained that where the farmer has tonnage in excess of his note held by the seed loan office, the government will agree to release the excess.

The Georgia senator entered vigorous protest with Secretary Hyde against the department's recent order directing the removal of cotton from warehouses, where stored by farmers, to concentration points or other depots. He told the secretary that the farmer was entitled to have his cotton remain in the warehouse of his choice, notwithstanding the fact that his receipt had been placed as collateral against his seed loan.

"The secretary indicated," Senator George said, "that the order for the removal of cotton would not be executed where the carrying charges and overhead of the warehouses selected by the farmers were not excessive."

ORAMEL SIMPSON DIES IN LOUISIANA

Death of 62-Year-Old Former Governor Was Unexpected.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Oramel H. Simpson, former governor of Louisiana, died at his home here today.

He had been in ill health for about three months, but his illness had not been sufficiently serious to keep him confined to his bed, and his death, occurring shortly after 11 o'clock this morning, was unexpected. He was 62 years old.

Mr. Simpson stepped into the governor's chair from the lieutenant gov-

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a sick, bad taste and your breath is foul. A skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Rosent's substitute, 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

ARTHRITIS SUFFERER FINDS EFFECTIVE TREATMENT

A retired business man of Pasadena, who had been unable to walk for more than three years as the result of arthritis (stiff joints), reports that he (finally) secured a prescription which not only brought him freedom from pain, but restored him to a life of normal activity. He then supplied the formula to a number of others who were afflicted with ailments resulting from excessive uric acid, such as Arthritis, Neuritis, Lumbago, Gout, Sciatica, and various other forms of Rheumatism, and they, too, reported their first relief. Renton's Hydrocort Tablets are prescribed by many physicians and endorsed by the leading druggists. No matter what other treatments you have taken or how badly you have suffered from any form of uric acidism caused by excessive uric acid, you should give Renton's Hydrocort Tablets a trial. Just send name and address to Renton, Desk A-1, Pasadena, Calif., or ask Jacobs Pharmacy Co., Lane Drug Store, or any druggist. Do this today. (adv.)

You Can Look Vital and Attractive at 45, or Broken-Down at 27!

Thor's Vitamin Compound of Yeast, Copper and Iron Makes Firm Flesh, Strong Nerves and Glowing Skin.

Some women are still young and attractive at forty-five; others appear old and broken before thirty. The difference is in vitality—rich, red blood, nerve force and strength. Everyone now knows that rich, red blood gives a youthful glow to the skin, and a fascinating vitality to the body, that nothing else can.

If you want to enrich your blood, put some healthy flesh in unsightly hollows, increase your nerve force and energy, and clear your complexion, try the new yeast vitamins, copper and iron treatment, Thor's Vitamin Compound. Here is what Mrs. O. M. Breeding says:

"A bad case of stomach trouble got my general health in terrible condition. I seemed to lose all the strength and vitality I had, and my nerves were on edge all the time. My complexion was sallow and ugly, and my face lined with nervousness and worry. Thor's Vitamin Compound of yeast, copper and iron routed my troubles in no time, cleared my skin, and got me to feeling like my old-time self. I can never thank it enough."

You take no chance when you take Thor's Vitamin Compound of yeast, copper and iron. ## Third Party for Parley Is Demanded by Sims

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—If Elly Culbertson wants to talk to P. Hal Sims there must be a third party in on the subject.

No "private understandings" and everything open and above board—that's the gist of a public protest, announced today by Mr. Sims tonight.

"I am perfectly willing to meet Mr. Culbertson to discuss terms, but only in the presence of a third party. I am told that Mr. Culbertson wants to talk to me privately about such a match. This, I refuse to do; if any match takes place, it will be entirely an open matter with no private understandings between Mr. Culbertson and myself. I refuse to talk to him except in the presence of a third party."

Now, it's up to Mr. Culbertson. And then a rebuttal from Mr. Lenz—beg pardon—Mr. Sims.

On the night of October 11, 1926, when Governor Henry L. Fuqua died suddenly in the executive mansion at Baton Rouge, he had been elected to the state's second highest office in 1924.

The outstanding event of his administration was the six-page order on April 26, 1927, of a proclamation which ordered the cutting of the Mississippi river levees and the creation of the artificial Lake Bienville in St. Bernard parish south of the city in order to save New Orleans from possible inundation by the great Mississippi river flood of 1927.

DR. FENTON TURK. NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Dr. Fenton Turk, a scientist and research specialist, died of a heart attack tonight. He was 75.

Dr. Turk in 1893 invented the gyroscope, a sponge-tipped probe for treating the stomach. He produced an anti-toxin for shock and was well known for his original research work on gastritis, traumatic shock and cytology.

CHARLES BECKHAM. LAKELAND, Fla., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Charles O. Beckham, 48, prominent in state insurance circles, died here early today. He was born in Kershaw, S. C., where the body will be sent for burial. A widow and son, Charles, survive.

D. M. COOK. TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 17.—(AP)—D. M. Cook, 46, first principal of George Washington Junior High school, of Tampa, died Tuesday in Key West, relatives here learned today.

He served as head of the school from 1915 to 1924. Survivors include his widow, two sons, Ralph and D. M. Cook Jr., of Fort Lauderdale, and a cousin, Miss Anna Spurr, of Orlando.

LOUIS GOLDSBOROUGH. BALTIMORE, Nov. 16.—(AP)—Louis D. Goldsborough, a typographer who set type for the Baltimore Sun the day it told the story of the bombardment of Fort Sumter at the outbreak of the Civil War and also for the first issue of the New York World in 1881, died here today at the age of 92 years.

He died at the home of a daughter. Funeral services will be held Friday. One of his grandchildren, Dr. Thomas L. McCorrion, a member of the Maryland board of dental examiners.

GEORGE E. BARSTOW. NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—George E. Barstow Jr., 60-year-old stock broker and member of a family of social leaders, died of a heart attack today while playing golf with a friend, Austin J. Long, Jr., at the Ritz Hotel. He leaves a wife; two daughters, Mrs. Stephen Whitney Blodgett and Mrs. Jerome Pillow Long Jr., and a son, George E. Barstow III.

Enemy of Beleaguered Churchman Branded as 'Legger by Red-Head'

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 17.—(UP)—Warring forces in the congregation of the Central Baptist church suspended action tonight while planning counter-attacks in the movement to oust Dr. Ben Cox as pastor. Police reserves were necessary last night at a meeting held in an effort to reach some agreement on whether Dr. Cox was to resign.

Dr. Cox has not yet resigned, and today a red-headed woman, who termed one of the church members a boot-legger and about whom a great part of the turmoil has centered, continued the revelation of private lives of the members that began at last night's meeting.

The meeting wound up in a fist-fight between W. C. Jackson and J. E. Barnett.

About a month ago red-haired Mrs. Daisy Solari was arrested on charges of disorderly conduct, which she says were made by her husband, Dr. Cox, who says he makes a practice of extending a helping hand to the poor and the down-trodden, arranged to have Mrs. Solari's fine paid so she would not have to go to the work-house.

Following that, charges were preferred against the moral and financial integrity of Dr. Cox. "They are using the Solari angle as an excuse to get at the main thing," Dr. Cox said tonight. "They want to stop my noon-day prayer meetings. They don't want me to extend a helping hand to the poor and down-trodden people."

Dr. Cox has demanded that if he resigns he be given a $25,000 lot of joining the church so that he may carry on his work of the Ben Cox Evangelical Benevolent Association. If he doesn't get that, he wants a $100 a month pension.

Those opposed to him, however, want him to resign unconditionally. That opposition brought about last night's battle when W. C. Jackson, who has opened some of the congregational meetings with prayer, led a physical assault on J. E. Barnett, who demanded the unconditional resignation of Dr. Cox.

Harold Leverett and Raymond Coppedge, who had not previously appeared in the case, were identified with the bombing plot by Carmichael. Leverett admitted having been with Moseley and Carmichael, and that he bought the black powder for the bomb. Coppedge testified that on a previous occasion he had placed a bomb in the Georgia theater, but that the bomb failed to explode and that he had nothing to do with the bomb which did explode.

Carmichael admitted placing the bomb in the theater on the day of the explosion, and Moseley admitted building the bomb, stating that Means furnished the money for supplies to him while Leverett and Carmichael waited near by. Testimony that Moseley, Carmichael and Leverett were seen together at Decatur and Pryor streets included the statement that one of the trio yelled at a passing friend, "We have enough powder to blow up Atlanta."

Carmichael said that he had been told that the bomb would flare up, but would do no damage. Seeing the results of the explosion, he nearly fainted at the sight, Carmichael said. Theater Panic Described.

M. Schane, owner of the Lincoln theater, told of seeing Moseley make frequent visits to his theater to see Means, who was an operator at the Lincoln.

J. G. Schultz, assistant manager of the Georgia, described the panic of the audience, and said that the shock of the explosion, he saw the ornamental light fixtures. George Coker, an usher, said that the floor trembled and the light from the explosion temporarily blinded him.

J. I. Thurmond, a patron of the theater, testified that a piece of the glass from the bomb struck him on the leg, inflicting a painful wound. Carmichael said that he was standing three rows away from the bomb when it went off, and that people knocked him down in their hurry to get away.

The bomb was made on the steps of a house in West Cain street near the theater, and the owner of the house chased the bomb-makers away before they had completed a test of the bomb. The bomb was a capsule of water, it was testified.

The case is expected to reach the jury this afternoon.

Ballot Error Costs $10,000 and Man Loses

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Nov. 17.—(AP)—When Montgomery county's 1920-1921 ballots were printed for last week's election—printed at a cost of $14,432 and advertised at a cost of $2,066—the name of Philip Childs Pendleton, democratic candidate for congress, was misspelled, and a correction had to be made.

The correction cost $100—and then it was found that Pendleton's name was repeated on the ballots and they had to be reprinted. This cost $4,535, including overtime for printers, and the re-advertising cost $2,966.

Total cost of ballots—$12,509. P. S.—Pendleton was defeated.

THOMAS ENDS DANDRUFF GROWS HAIR

Dandruff clogs the hair follicle, causes itchy scalp, falling hair, and keeps new hair from replacing hair which has dropped out. Because there are several types of dandruff, cure-all surface remedies usually do not correct the trouble. One of the most dangerous types of dandruff is caused by a germ deep in the scalp, known as "fask bacilli of Unna."

Thomas treatment attacks this destructive germ by modern therapeutic agents and restores the scalp to a normal healthy condition. When your scalp is once rid of dandruff, new hair starts to grow again. Call at a Thomas office today for a free scalp examination and learn for yourself just how Thomas treatment can make your scalp healthy.

NOW! EASE A SORE THROAT INSTANTLY

Feel Rawness, Irritation, Go At Once

These Pictures Tell You What To Do

Remember Only Medicine Helps A Sore Throat

Modern medical science now throws an entirely new light on sore throat. A way that eases the pain, rawness and irritation in as little as two or three minutes.

Results are among the most extraordinary in medical science. On doctors' advice, millions are following this way... discarding old-time "washes" and "antiseptics." For it has been found that only medicine can help a sore throat.

Simple To Do. All you do is crush and dissolve three BAYER Aspirin Tablets in half a glass of water. Gargle with it twice—as pictured above. If you have any indication of a cold—before gargling take 2 Bayer Aspirin Tablets with a full glass of water. This is to combat any signs of cold that have gone into your system. Keep on taking if cold has a "hold." For Genuine Bayer Aspirin will not harm you. Your doctor will tell you, it does not depress the heart. Get a box of 12 or a bottle of 100 at any drug store.

Reduces Infection, Eases Pain Instantly. Gargling with Bayer Aspirin will do three things: Relieve soreness at once. Alleviate inflammation. AND—reduce infection; which is the important thing in fighting a sore throat.

It requires medicine—like BAYER ASPIRIN—to do these things! That is why throat specialists throughout America are prescribing this BAYER gargle in place of old-time ways. Results are quick and amazing.

Be careful, however, that you get real BAYER Aspirin Tablets for this purpose. For they dissolve completely enough to gargle without leaving irritating particles. Watch this when you buy.

NO TABLETS ARE GENUINE BAYER ASPIRIN WITHOUT THIS CROSS

RAIL, LABOR HEADS WEIGH JOB ISSUE

Executives Discuss Interpretations of Chicago 'Stabilization' Pact.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(P)—Questions relating to "certain interpretations" of an agreement made in Chicago last January between representatives of the Railway Labor Executives' Association and railroad presidents representing eastern, southern and western lines were discussed today at a meeting of both groups.

Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, issued the following statement after the closed meeting ended:

"The conference that was held in the New Haven board room today between the committee of 21, representing labor, and seven members of the original committee of nine representing the railroads at the Chicago conference was for the purpose of considering questions having to do with certain interpretations of the Chicago agreement relating to the stabilization of employment."

"Questions brought up in that connection were fully discussed and it was arranged that certain of the specific matters referred to would be given further consideration. A number of other matters of mutual interest were also discussed in an amicable and helpful spirit."

"No consideration or discussion was had concerning the matters being dealt with by the Thiehoff committee."

It was explained that another committee of railroad executives, who will meet with labor men in Chicago December 10, is handling the question of wages.

The labor representatives claim that despite the contract which became effective February 1, whereby they agreed to a voluntary reduction of 10 per cent in wages, the railroads have failed to live up to the agreement as far as stabilization is concerned, and that 110,000 more men are out of work now than last January 31.

3 Hunters Killed.

DULUTH, Minn., Nov. 17.—(P)—Three deer hunters were fatally wounded in accidents in northern Minnesota, and the Michigan peninsula today.

FIRE DEPARTMENT SAVINGS APPROVED BY UNDERWRITERS

Savings of $100,000 annually in the Atlanta fire department were approved "almost in toto" Thursday by representatives of the National Board of Fire Underwriters and the Southeastern Fire Underwriters' Association in conference with Mayor James L. Key.

W. D. Cates and Harvey N. Pye, representing the underwriters' associations, attended the conference, as did W. Evans Chambers, city survey expert, who made the recommendations of savings. They agreed that two companies and possibly three might be eliminated, that 53 men could be cut from the pay rolls and that other economies proposed by Chambers could be made effective gradually.

Abandonment of Station No. 4, on Pryor street, and possibly No. 14, on Lee street, Oakland City, was concurred in by the representatives, as was one of the two companies at No. 2, Trinity avenue and Spring street.

Chambers expressed gratification at the conference, and Key also backed the economy report.

Completion of the official canvass of the vote in the recent general election is expected to be made at the state capital today. Members of the staff of Governor Richard B. Russell Jr. said Thursday that only three counties, Wilkinson, Ware and Floyd had failed to report on the election of president, senators and congressmen, while the office of Secretary of State John B. Wilson reported that only one county, Floyd, had failed to report on the election of state officials. These counties are expected to report today.

Mayor James L. Key Thursday suggested co-operation between city and county governments throughout the state in prevention of harmful legislation as he wrote members of a statewide committee, which assisted in defeating the proposal to exempt intangibles from city, county and school district taxation. His letter thanked them for their successful efforts.

Federal Judge E. Marvin Underwood Thursday appointed J. W. Powell, of Newnan, referee in bankruptcy succeeding the late W. G. Post. Underwood also appointed J. W. Powell for two-year terms: Harry Dodd, Atlanta; E. M. McCannless, Canton; N. L. Hutchins, Lawrenceville; C. D. McCutcheon, Dalton; W. S. Rowell and R. C. Stanton, Rome; J. O. Futral, Griffin; W. A. Bailey, Toccoa, and H. H. Tisinger, Carrollton.

Dan J. Strickland, charged with stealing narcotics from a Gainesville drug store, Thursday was held for the federal grand jury under $5,000 bond following a hearing before United States Commissioner E. S. Griffith. The narcotics, stolen from Gainesville, were held at the Atlanta police station, but the salesman who picked an undercover agent of the narcotic bureau as a customer, it was said.

Alva G. Maxwell, vice president of the Citizens & Southern National bank, will be principal speaker before the M. L. Brittain Speakers' Club of Georgia Tech Evening School of Commerce at its meeting at 6:30 o'clock tonight on the roof of the school. His subject will be "Aspects of the Gold Standard."

Courtland Olin, of New York, president of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be a visitor in Atlanta next Wednesday, it was announced at the weekly luncheon of the Jaycees at the Ansley hotel Thursday. He will be honored with a Thanksgiving Eve dinner-dance at the East Lake Country Club that night.

Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce paid a visit to the federal penitentiary Thursday afternoon following their luncheon in the civic room of the Ansley hotel. There were no speakers, as the luncheon adjourned early for the tour.

Foreign War Veterans' band will be organized next week by A. W. Jones, city smoke inspector, who in the last 15 years has organized 14 different musical groups. Musicians who have served in foreign wars will meet at 8 o'clock Wednesday night at the Ansley hotel, it was announced. Jones was the organizer of the Atlanta police band and several others here.

Sandy Springs church members will observe "Rally Day" at the church Sunday with a special pageant presented by a group of Atlanta women. Services will be held at 10 o'clock and conclude the work for the year, according to announcement by B. F. Wise, of the church.

Atlanta Post No. 1, American Legion, will feature the regular meeting of the post with a special "Forty and Eight" program at 12:30 o'clock Sunday at the Ansley hotel. Julius Setze is chairman of the entertainment committee.

James T. Clark will make the first delayed parachute jump at Candler field in many months when he will jump from a Fairchild cabin ship at a height of 3,000 feet at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, it was announced Thursday. His pilot will be George Shealy.

Battery B Club, of Atlanta, will hold its fall banquet at 7:45 o'clock Tuesday at Aunt Minnie's tea room. Mark Stephenson will preside as master of ceremonies for the entertainment program.

Smith-Pew Construction Company, of Atlanta, Thursday was awarded a contract by the war department for erection of officers' quarters at Fort Oglethorpe.

Bathhouse dinner will be served by the Business Women's League of the Second Baptist church from 11 to 2 o'clock next Monday at the Storch restaurant, fifth floor, 116 Whitehall street. The degree of Master Mason will be conferred by the church. Tickets will be sold for 35 cents each.

Dr. M. D. Huff, Atlanta dentist, will read a paper and conduct a clinic before the Birmingham (Ala.) Dental Society at a meeting there tonight. His subject will be "Observations and Methods on Porcelain Inlays and Porcelain Jacket Crowns."

Mrs. Joe Stewart, of 836 St. Charles avenue, N. E., who was severely burned Wednesday at her home when her dress became ignited as she stood before an open grate, was reported to be slightly improved Thursday at St. Joseph's infirmary. Her

THE NEW SINCLAIR REGULAR has a higher anti-knock rating than some premium fuels

It's a bold claim—but we can prove it! The new Sinclair Regular Gasoline actually has a higher anti-knock rating than some premium fuels costing you 3 cents more per gallon!

Sinclair spent $18,000,000 on new refinery equipment to step up the anti-knock rating of Sinclair Regular by 70%. For speedy getaway in traffic—for knockless power on the hills—for outstanding fuel economy, you'll drive a long way before you'll find a gasoline to compare with it at such a price. Try it yourself for 30 days. Test the truth of all we claim here. The astounding sales increases which the new Sinclair Regular has made since it was put on the market prove that this is the gasoline of the century! Ask for the new Sinclair Regular, stepped up 70%.

NOTE: For best results, use Sinclair Opaline or Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil. Both have been de-waxed, and also freed from petroleum jelly at as low as 60° F. below zero.

Another stirring epic by Zane Grey will begin Monday.

PARIS LOVE

By Nina Wilcox Putnam

WHAT WAS GONE BEFORE. Alacia Sayers' fat, middle-aged, middle-class mother had continued the manufacture in France of the Europa, a new motor car, when her husband died 10 years previously, and she was now worth $800,000,000. Alacia had been worrying because Alfredo Santini, a young man who sometimes drove racing cars, was in constant attendance on her mother. Then Alacia fell in love at first sight with a handsome young Frenchman and did not care to leave her mother. She had her pearl necklace and went to Piron's to buy an imitation. Ramon Cabero and another salesman, members of Santini's jewel thief gang, had substituted a valuable necklace for one tagged 1,000 francs. The manager called another salesman, and Alacia was amused to see Ramon, who completed the sale. An armadillo later that an American aunt told him that he had "made good" at the age of 20. He was now 25. Three friends of the aunt, Colonel Bradley, the Paris prefect de police, and M. Piron, were to decide whether he got the bracelet. While a guest, he described their purchases. They went to a jeweler friend of Piron's who said they were worth a million and a quarter francs. When Alacia reached home, she found a beautiful black poodle, a gift from M. Piron. She heard a woman screaming at the door.

Now GO ON WITH THE STORY:

INSTALLMENT X.

"There is that ridiculous old woman in the blonde wig again," she whispered, nudging him, "dancing with the young Spaniard!" He looked at her as though coming back from a long distance. When his eyes had that expression in them, Mrs. Sayers credited Santini with a profundity of thought which would have amazed and flattered him.

"Ah, yes," he replied with a slight effort to share her amusement. "What a fright she is! These women have not the chic, like you American young ladies!"

Kate Sayers smiled up at him happily. She seldom allowed herself to think about what she paid in cold cash for this sort of compliment and tried to believe that his illusion as to her youthfulness was genuine. Yet that very instant she decided to give in to him and dine at Ciro's instead of at home, as she preferred. His rewards for the simplest effort were always immediate. Yes, they would dine at Ciro's. She would go home presently and struggle through the effort of dressing and facing another evening of feverish activity. She would tell him now and he would become more amiable.

"Alfredo!" she said. "I have been thinking it over. If you wish we will..." "she broke off because there was a face peering at her over his shoulder, a man's face and unfamiliar. The man was not dancing, but had walked up between the dancers. Now he tapped Santini on the shoulder.

"Ramon!" exclaimed Santini. "What is it?" The clerk from the Maison Piron appeared to be in a state of suppressed agitation.

"May I interrupt a minute?" he asked. Then he bowed to Mrs. Sayers, "if madame will permit," he added politely. "An old friend of M. Santini is just leaving and asks to speak to him."

Santini was already leading her back to her table. The messenger had slipped away among the crowd and strong Sayers sat down in her chair, glad enough to sit down but watching Santini with a jealous eye.

"Who is it wants you?" she asked. "Some woman?" Santini shrugged. "I can't imagine. I will be back at once." He turned away and she watched him fixedly as he shouldered a path through the crowd, heading for the main entrance. But it was impossible to see whom he joined. The orchestra had changed to jazz and instantly the Americans in the room were on their feet. The floor was packed with a suffocating crowd completely blocking her view of the direction he had taken. Then despairing of following his movements further she merely beckoned to a waiter and gave the order—champagne and hilters.

Moments passed and the dancing couples brushed her table as they hitched by. The waiter brought the drink in its slender glass and she watched it unseeing as the little bubbles arose from the amber depths and broke along the rim, a strange sense of foreboding creeping over her. Who had sent for Santini? Was it by chance the long-dreaded young woman who must some day claim him? What would this girl be called and from whence would she come? Kate Sayers shuddered a little in the hot room and tried to shake herself free of the smiling young ghost which was the child of her own imagination. Santini was not like the other dancing boys, she told herself. He was serious, old for his age, a racing man, not a mere gigolo, and she was a fool to doubt his devotion. Hadn't he proved it in every conceivable way for weeks, now? She laughed at her own fears, twisting the champagne glass to make the bubbles dance more gaily. Yet in another moment she was torn with anxiety as she saw him returning.

"Always thoughtful!" he smiled at her as he drew his chair closer in an ingratiating manner, and lifted the glass. "Forgive me for leaving you."

"Was it anything important?" "I'm afraid so," he said apologetically. "Will you excuse me if I put you in your car to go home? It is my old nurse who is very ill. They have been looking for me everywhere and I must go to her. She may be dying, cette pauvre vieille! I cannot well refuse."

"Let me take you there in the car," she offered instantly. "I'd love to help, really!" But Santini only patted her be-ringed hand and shook his head smilingly.

"No, no," he protested. "That is asking too much! I cannot allow my pretty to see such unpleasant things. Besides, I may be obliged to stay late."

"Does that mean we can't dine together?" she asked quickly. "Impossible to say," he replied. "It would upset your cook, perhaps."

"Then we'll make it Ciro's," she said eagerly. "I'll order a table for 9 o'clock and be waiting for you in the lobby there."

"You are too good!" he declared, kissing her hand. "But if I do not come, you will understand!"

Outside on the steps he handed her carefully into the limousine and

"All women like a homely man like Ed. He's so ugly that he makes any woman seem a ravine beauty when you see 'em together."

"Let me take you there in the car," she offered instantly. "I'd love to help, really!" But Santini only patted her be-ringed hand and shook his head smilingly.

"All women like a homely man like Ed. He's so ugly that he makes any woman seem a ravine beauty when you see 'em together."

"Let me take you there in the car," she offered instantly. "I'd love to help, really!" But Santini only patted her be-ringed hand and shook his head smilingly.

"No, no," he protested. "That is asking too much! I cannot allow my pretty to see such unpleasant things. Besides, I may be obliged to stay late."

Tech and Georgia Leave Today for Battles on Foreign Fields

Awake or Asleep—It's Still a Nightmare to Harry Mehre.

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 17.—Mr. Harry Mehre, coach of the Georgia Bulldogs, moaned slightly in his sleep. He was having a nightmare.

He was dreaming that the big game of the season was just a day away and his team was all marching in review before him.

Freddie Miller, end, went marching by, his arm bandaged, and a sign on his chest reading, "I Haven't Scrimmaged All Week."

Mack Crenshaw, end, came limping by, his knee bandaged and a placard about his neck reading, "Don't Forget I Got Hurt Early in the Clemson Game and Haven't Worked Since."

Mr. Mehre groaned and fought his pillow.

The nightmare continued and a player jumped out from behind a door. It was Dick Maxwell, another end. He shouted at Mr. Mehre, "Don't forget that I'm out for the season!"

Graham Batchelor came in and tried to point out something but couldn't because two fingers on his right hand were bound together and right wrist sprained.

The subject of the nightmare tossed on his bed, waving his hands in desperation.

Big Ed Davis at the tackle, paraded by. He was accompanied by a doctor. "Now Davis," said the doctor, "remember you haven't been out all week and are still weak and in danger from that attack of the flu. So be careful."

Vason McWhorter, the center, came through the room with his foot bandaged. Perkins, the sub-center, came in attended by a doctor.

And two doctors walked in taking Leroy Young's temperature. The quarter hadn't been out all week.

Gilmore, the fullback, came in and announced, "I am out for the season."

And then there appeared a big black bear labeled "The Auburn Game" and it began to chase Mr. Mehre. It was gaining on him and about to catch him. He screamed and sat up, wide, staring awake.

And it was all true—it wasn't a nightmare at all but the pathetic truth.

INJURIES AND ILLNESS HANDICAPPED.

Georgia has a chance to win Saturday because the Bulldog spirit is flaming this week. The boys have taken adversity and blows from fate with a grimace which indicates they are ready to give battle to the limit on Saturday afternoon at Columbus.

All the injuries and illnesses listed above are accurate. Two men have been lost for the remainder of the season, Maxwell, end, and Gilmore, fullback.

The Bulldog's cannot take another injury, especially at end, and come up with full strength. The men who start Saturday must go on and finish.

The odds undoubtedly shift a bit further in favor of Auburn's undefeated eleven to win from Georgia and go on to the title. It is a habit of Mr. Chet Wynne to discount the writings of the newspaper boys but your correspondent put on his glasses and looked at the records.

Two men are lost. Davis was out today for the first time after a severe cold. The other injured were getting treatment.

And yet I think Georgia has a slim, fighting chance to win from Auburn. Any team has a chance, of course, as long as there is someone back there to throw the football or run with it. But Georgia's chance is more than that. The Bulldogs have played the more difficult schedule and are used to taking the raps. They can, by winning Saturday, make their season a success, and don't think they are not acutely aware of that. Auburn should win—but will she?

WILL DEMAND MILITARY PROTECTION.

Columbus is putting on a great military show before the game. Visitors will find the stadium completed. Newspaper men will find a press box, inclosed and lighted.

Fort Benning is putting on a military show. There will be tanks and machine guns and infantry and all sorts of maneuvers.

"I am planning to demand military protection if this great Auburn team begins to run over us," said Coach Harry Mehre this afternoon. "I am glad the troops will have bayonets. If Auburn makes a massacre of it we can get some protection."

Coach Mehre also revealed that he had been forced to do a very ungentlemanlike thing. "Chet Wynne called me early Thursday," he said, "and asked if it would be all right for his boys to wear track shoes at the track meet his boys were going to have Saturday. I told him that it would be all right with me personally but that the rules were against it and that our Mr. Stegeman was a member of the rules committee and we couldn't agree."

While talking about track shoes for Auburn's backs, the two coaches did get together on the officials. Dick Campbell, former Southern Association umpire, will referee.

THERE WILL BE LOTS OF WITNESSES.

All Athens, including the Georgia band, is going to Columbus Saturday.

This does not mean that there will not be seats. Columbus managers of the game were that the stadium has been completed and thus enlarged. And extra seats have been put up to provide for any possible overflowing. There will be seats for all who attend the game.

This means there will be plenty of witnesses to whatever happens. It is the biggest game of Dixieland, is this effort of Georgia to toss Auburn from the pinnacle and leave no conference team unbeaten or untied.

THAT MILITARY SHOW.

At Young, one of the football committee at Columbus, warns that one should not miss the military show beginning at 1 p. m. (Hold your coupons and quit shying.)

There will be some of those new army tanks, the kind that make 120 miles per hour, and fire guns at one and the same time. They are manned by Georgia boys who are used to jolting about on the roads.

There will also be some infantry charges, machine gun charges and all that. A real show, perhaps the best one ever arranged. The Fort Benning officers and men are working to make it a splendid success.

THE RIVAL SHOW.

Judge Frank Foley, the bass singer, offers a rival show. In it Jeff Kelly will have a booth showing all the autographed pictures which stage and screen beauties have sent him. Edgar Chancellor will parade bathing beauties in the special bathing suits sold only by his store; Charley Foley will sing "The Skies Will All Be Blue;" a masked bass will sing "Red Wing;" and Al Young will do the doll dance. You should be in your seats at 5:45 a. m. for this show.

CHICAGO WORKS.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Chicago's Maroons moved over to take their final hard practice before the Wisconsin battle Saturday. Badger passes were stopped in good shape, and the Chicago overhead game showed improvement.

GRAYSON OPENS.

Grayson Athletic Club, a member of the Big Six Basketball league, will open its season at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night at Grayson with the Southern Dental College as their opponents. The Dental College team also is a member of the Big Six league.

CAIN INJURED IN SCRIMMAGE, MAY MISS GAME

Alex To Take 33 Men to Florida for 'Gator Battle.

By Jimmy Jones.

With the distant palms and balmy temperatures of Florida beckoning, Georgia Tech's football men pranced through a stiff scrimmage yesterday at Grant field, preparatory to entraining tonight for Gainesville and Saturday's game with Florida.

Thirty-three players, with a full retinue of coaches, left for Gainesville last night at 7:25 o'clock. The final hard practice was not momentous, but for a unusually tough break that befell Tom Cain, the valiant Tuscarora tackle, who received a badly sprained ankle while taking part in the scrimmage against Florida plays along about twilight yesterday.

HE MIGHT PLAY.

Mike Chambers shouldered Cain bodily like a wrestler getting ready for a giant wing and bore him to the dressing room, where restoratives were immediately applied. The injury was a rather severe one and there is some doubt if he will be able to play against Florida. Cain is the left tackle on the second team which played a good portion of the game against Alabama last Saturday.

It is virtually a certainty that Jack Phillips, promising sophomore fullback, will make the trip and perhaps start the game. He has been on the list of players to be taken along, although he must receive a final O. K. from the faculty today. Phillips has been in all of the scrimmaging this week and Coach Alex has been pointing him for the role of relieving Dean at fullback.

Mike Chambers, Tech trainer, said yesterday that all players, with the possible exception of Dean and Cain, would be ready for action Saturday. These include Wink Davis, halfback, and "Smoky" Viereck, end, who received rather painful injuries in the Alabama game.

The Tech train will reach Gainesville, Fla., at approximately 9:30 a. m. Saturday. On the return trip, the train is scheduled to reach Atlanta at 8:30 a. m. Sunday. A hurried trip will be made to Gainesville to hotel stayover in Florida.

SEE TOUGH GAME.

Tech coaches are expecting a tough game with Florida. The 'Gators have scoring power, as shown in all their games this year and they have several fine young sophomore players who are just hitting their stride. Although Al Rogers, veteran passer, has been unable to help his team much, such backs as Speedy Jack Henderson, George Moe, Jimmy Hughes and McAnly have been playing a lot of good hard football. On the Florida line, there are some very aggressive players, particularly Ferrazi, center; Jenkins, tackle, and McLean, end.

Following is a complete list of the players and others making up the Tech party:

Ends—Slocum, Spradling, Goldsmith, Viereck, Sid Williams and Sackett.

Tackles—Clyde Williams, Tharpe, Cain, Gardner, Brady.

Guards—Lackey, Laws, Wilcox, Jones, Adams, Warner, Morris.

Centers—Captain Neblett, Pool, McCoy.

Backs—McArthur, Dean, Cherry, Phillips, Perkins, Grant, Peterson, Barron, Davis, Roberts, Hart.

Managers—Owens and James.

Coaches—Alexander, Cannon and Dodd.

Professor A. H. Armstrong will represent the faculty. Trainer Mike Chambers and Dr. Herndon, the team physician, will round out the party. Chambers also will have his two faithful Senebanians, "rubbers," "Burton" and "Porto Rico," along as aids.

A number of followers of the team also will go along, including Ferd Kaufman, Mack Tharpe, freshman coach, and Earl Cook, Robinson, who will be in Columbus scouting Georgia against Auburn.

Six Sophomores In 'Gator Lineup.

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Nov. 17.—(AP)—Wallace "War" Brown, 158-pound sophomore, will be at right half when the Florida 'Gators take the Tech Saturday afternoon in their homecoming game with Georgia Tech.

Brown, whose speed and defensive play have attracted attention, replaces George Moe, also a sophomore, in the starting lineup as was indicated tonight by Coach Charlie Bachman at the conclusion of the 'Gators' Thursday practice. He will start "Slut" McLean at left half in place of "Chuck" Rogers. Both McLean and Brown are on the varsity for the first time.

While the 75-piece University of Florida band will march through the gymnasium in the stadium this afternoon, making ready for the homecoming events, the 'Gators stepped through another shadow scrimmage, none of it with a letch to victory.

Coach Bachman put his boys on both offense and defense.

Tonight the boys were called back for a 45-minute signal drill in the old gymnasium. The practice fields are not illuminated and the afternoon practice sessions are short.

After viewing the first half of the game here tomorrow between the 'Gators' and Florida, the varsity squad will be taken to Keystone Heights to spend the night. A shadow scrimmage at Keystone is contemplated late in the afternoon.

Word from Atlanta is to the effect that the Tech football party will not arrive until Saturday morning. They will forego the customary workout on the scene of battle on the day before the game.

Coach Bachman is pleased with the development of his squad this week and expects the 'Gators to give Tech a worthy battle, but he does not underestimate the strength of the Atlanta players, he said. He figures Tech will win by a close decision.

There is no other change likely in the opening Florida lineup, which is now slated to be as follows: McLean, left end; Sherrill, left tackle; Lane, left guard; Ferrazi, center; Bernhardt, right guard; Jenkins, right tackle; Schirmer, right end; Hughes, quarterback; McAnly, left half; Brown, right half; Stoltz, fullback.

In the event Sherrill, who has been out all week with a leg injury, cannot play, another sophomore, Hank Starbuck, will take over the left-tackle duties. In either event six sophomores will be in the Florida starting lineup.

CENTENARY SEES PERFECT SEASON AS END IS NEAR

Gentlemen Earn Recognition as One of Eight Undefeated.

By J. J. Femrite.

United Press Staff Correspondent. NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 17.—(UP)—Thirty young men who call themselves the Centenary Gentlemen from Shreveport have performed some rather remarkable feats on the gridiron this fall to earn national recognition as one of the eight undefeated and untied teams in the country.

From an inauspicious start, the Gents have knocked over some of the best teams the southwest had to offer. In every game they had to give weight, but application of brains and perfect teamwork did the trick for them. Their record includes victories over such star performers as Texas, Southern Methodist, Mississippi, Texas A&M and Louisiana State University. Arkansas is the only remaining obstacle to a perfect record.

Centenary College opened last fall with only 500 students registered. From this meager number Coach Homer Norton had to make his selections for the 1932 football squad. He worked diligently and finally got 30 men out of the lot. These men have carried the burden through the entire season against squads with twice that number of players.

Three Attributes. Coach Norton says his team has three attributes which account for their success, namely, perfect teamwork, smart football and the desire to win. A majority of his players are from small Louisiana towns; they had very little experience to recommend them when the season opened. Cameron and Murr are the only players who had won high school recognition.

Morton uses the modified punt formation and balanced line to suit his light squad. The team averages 172 pounds per man and Norton modifies his system each year to fit the material. Paul Geisler, 172 pounds, is the team's outstanding performer. Critics say he is a "one-trick pony," but he has a good head and deserves All-American honors. He is a powerful tackler, a good blocker and an expert pass receiver.

Ralph Murr, 160-pound halfback, is Centenary's "triple threat" man and regarded as the second best player on the team. Murr is a good passer, blocker, punter and pass receiver. Joe Oliphant, 190 pounds, is the heaviest man on the squad. Joe is a tackle of strength in both offense and defense. Manning Smith, 167 pounds, a quarterback, takes care of the passing and punting end of the team. He is a long distance punter and a good passer.

The players give all the credit for their record this year to Coach Norton, formerly of Birmingham-Southern. Norton has coached the Gents for 13 years. Since 1920 his teams have won 50 games, lost 15 and tied four. Norton has the outstanding record for the success of his team.

Centenary was also unbeaten in 1927 after a season which included games with some of the best teams in the south.

The lightest, speediest man on the Gents' team is Harold Oslin, 150 pounds. He has been classed along with such star performers as Cy Leeland, former Texas Christian player, in the matter of speed. When Oslin gets the ball he fairly flies through the air. Ben Cameron is used solely as a blocking back. He is a long distance punter and a good passer.

Sophomores Star in 'Gator Backfield

Here are eight sophomores in the University of Florida backfield who are aiding the team in the current campaign. Georgia Tech meets these men, in addition to the other stalwart Floridians, Saturday at Gainesville, Fla. The sophomores are Charley Stolz, No. 36; Jack Henderson, No. 22; George Moe, No. 64; the young man with hands resting on knees, Herb McAnly. In the circles (1) Ernie Priest, (2) Obbie Besant, (3) Wally Brown, (4) Walter Middlekauff. The greatest homecoming in the history of Florida is expected to mark Saturday's game, the first that Tech has ever played in the state. The Jackets are favored to win.

JAKE RETAINS LEAD IN TRIALS

MONTICELLO, Ga., Nov. 17.—(AP) Prized fox hounds owned jointly by A. M. Bentley and J. K. Hogan, of Macon, almost completely dominated the field as a result of the third stage of the annual field trials of the Georgia Fox Hunters' Association, were tabulated this afternoon. Only one more race will be staged, that coming early Friday morning, after which trophies will be awarded to owners of dogs with the highest scores.

Jake, a July, owned by Bentley and Hogan, continued to lead the field of 25 dogs. He scored 25 points Wednesday and added five more today for a total of 30, which is 10 ahead of his nearest competitors.

Steadman, 20; Bentley and Hogan, 15; King, 10; King, owned by George Stinson, Monticello, Ga., and Buck, also owned by Bentley and Hogan, are tied for second place with 20 points each.

Out of a possible 260 points for three days, Bentley and Hogan hounds have scored 140 points. Steadman's dogs have piled up 55 points for second place, while Stinson's dogs have scored 30 points. Dogs owned by H. V. Hardin, Hogansville, Ga., have scored 20 points, while those of D. G. Hardy, Gordon, Ga., have 10.

The standing of the hounds with owners named after the third and next to last set follows:

Missouri Paper Proposes Toast To 'Drunk Alumni'

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 17.—(UP) Missouri University's official weekly newspaper proposed an ironic toast today to the school's "drunken alumni." Under the title, "An Ideal Crumb," the paper said the homecoming celebration, held in conjunction with the annual Missouri-Kansas football game last Saturday, did not serve its purpose of providing a reunion for old college friends.

"A toast to hundreds of returning alumni, bottle laden, staggering, insensible to the real meaning of homecoming," the editorial stated.

"A toast to drunken mobs in campus restaurants, destroying property, insulting every creed of gentlemen."

"A toast to the bootleggers, who, with the hotel keepers and their many storied saloons, are the only ones who profit from homecoming."

DECATUR, NEAR TITLE, TO PLAY MARIST TONIGHT

DeKalb Boys Eye Third Crown; G. M. A. on Road Today.

By Roy White.

Decatur High and Marist College, two rivals for the North Georgia interscholastic conference, will furnish the attraction for prep football fans at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Decatur in the next to the last game on Decatur's card.

A Decatur victory tonight will leave only Griffin High between Decatur and its third successive N. G. I. C. title. The Griffin game was added to the Decatur schedule some time after the original program was arranged.

Other games today are G. M. A. and Cornelia High at 2:30 o'clock at College Park, University and Marietta at Marietta and Fulton and Russell at East Point.

Decatur High is undefeated among state competition since the middle of the 1929 season and since that time, the DeKalb eleven has won two successive N. G. I. C. titles.

Marist, with a young inexperienced eleven, has come along fast and should give Decatur one of its hardest games of the season. Marist had only two players returned from the 1931 squad but with numerous candidates for each position, and hard work, the team has developed fast.

G. M. A., after starting strong, struck a losing streak when Harry Greene, the big fullback, was injured and only last week recovered from the streak with a well-played game.

The Cornelia game was scheduled Tuesday afternoon and will give the Cadets just the sort of game they need before the annual game with Lanier Thanksgiving at Macon.

University and Marietta will battle for third position in the N. G. I. C. Both teams have lost two games and it should be a fitting climax to both seasons.

Fulton will offer Russell plenty of trouble today as the East Point team battles to hold second place in the N. G. I. C. Russell has lost only one game and that was in the opening of the season against Decatur by a one-touchdown margin.

GRACEY IS LOST TO VANDERBILT

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 17.—(UP) Clarence (Pete) Gracey, Vanderbilt University's all-southern center, will not be able to play in the Thanksgiving Day game with Alabama at Birmingham.

A torn cartilage, suffered in the game with Tennessee last Saturday, has slipped and caught in the joint of his knee. Gracey was taken to Vanderbilt hospital this morning, where physicians will try to adjust the cartilage.

Dr. Ammie Sikes, team physician, said faintly that Gracey would not be able to play in the Alabama game. Gracey has expressed a keen desire to participate since he is a senior and that will be his last game. Coaches, however, said they would not use him because of the condition of his knee.

Nance Jordan will take Gracey's place. If his knee responds quickly to treatment at the hospital, Dr. Sikes said Gracey might be able to participate in the pending charity game between Vanderbilt and an eastern opponent in New York on December 3.

SNOW PRACTICE.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 17.—(UP) Groundkeepers unrolled the tarpaulin from a small area of the snow-covered gridiron to permit the Illinois squad to take a short workout on forward passes. Berry tossed to Beynon and Froeschauer, but the cold hampered the drill and Coach Bob Zupke was dissatisfied, and undecided what kind of an offense will be used against Ohio State.

For Ham-Oregon State, at New York. This will be Fordham's second chance to bring back some lost prestige to the east. The Fordham team that beat St. Mary's should win handsomely. The Fordham team of the Michigan State and Boston College games will be beaten. Oregon State has had rough sledding most of the year against strong western opposition.

These far-western teams usually strike the eastern border with cyclonic effect. But Fordham is equipped with too much power to be beaten, if the team turns on its stuff. In the face of many far-western upheavals, Fordham should win.

Manhattan-Holy Cross, at New York. This will be Clack Meahan's first shot at the big time for 1932. He has a younger, lighter team, which has only an outside chance. Holy Cross dropped some of its steam after the Brown defeat and Coach's McEwan's

THE SPORTLIGHT

THE ROUND-UP
Harvard-Yale, at New Haven.
Far, they miss the ancient cheers
That in past seasons used to fire us;
Lo—their pomp of other years
Is one with Speaker and with Tyrus.

The Harvard-Yale meeting at New Haven tomorrow rates as another of those even affairs in which there is little to choose. The fact that Yale has at last worked out her flank problem with two good ends and has much more experience in her backfield gives the Blue water edge there in the advance picking.

As a rule these old-time traditional battles have a habit of turning upside down, with the verdict going to the under dog. But Yale seems to be better equipped with the winning weapons in this next joust.

Michigan-Minnesota, at Minneapolis.
This will be Michigan's final advance upon a Western conference championship, and one of the few unbeaten and untied seasons. Minnesota has lacked Michigan's all-season consistency, but at certain times has shown enough to be rated highly dangerous.

With such outstanding football players as Newman, Petoskey, Bernard and Williamson, Michigan should pull this game out of the closing flames, but there will be little to spare. A Minnesota victory would be no heavy upset, but Michigan rates the call.

Auburn-Georgia, at Columbus.
Here is another battle which will carry a championship dream. Auburn is now the sole surviving member in the Southern conference that has won a game. Georgia has fallen before V. P. L., Tulane, N. Y. U. and Vanderbilt. Yet this is a young Georgia team, which has been steadily improving, and the big fullback, was injured and only last week recovered from the streak with a well-played game.

The Cornelia game was scheduled Tuesday afternoon and will give the Cadets just the sort of game they need before the annual game with Lanier Thanksgiving at Macon.

University and Marietta will battle for third position in the N. G. I. C. Both teams have lost two games and it should be a fitting climax to both seasons.

GRIFFITH SLATED TO CALL PLAYS FOR GEORGIANS

Two Other Sophomores Expected To Start Along With Buster Mott.

By Dillon Graham,

Associated Press Sports Writer.
Georgia may entrust its gridiron strategy to a sophomore quarterback, Jack Griffith, in the Southern conference football championship battle against Auburn in Columbus, Ga., Saturday.

Griffith, a husky 175-pounder, replaced the lighter and more experienced Leroy Young in the New York University and Clemson games and exhibited excellent generalship. His added weight and versatility gives more power to the Bulldog quartet.

Two other sophomores, Halfback Buck Chapman and Fullback Joe Cronch, also are expected to open against the Plainsmen, along with the veteran Buster Mott.

A year ago Mott engineered a last-period offensive which enabled Georgia to defeat Auburn, 12 to 6. New stars have sprung up since then. Bill David, Cy Grant and Young—but none possess the all-round ability of the 185-pound Mott.

Coach Harry Mehre is not afraid of Auburn's driving power. No team has been able to march through Georgia this year, but the Georgia mentor fears Auburn's passing and the rapid-like thrusts of Hitchcock, Dupree, Kimbrell and Phipps, which may be turned into touchdown dashes.

Clark settled over the practice fields at Auburn and Athens yesterday before the rival coaches. Chet Wynne and Mehre, brought a halt to their final workouts.

Wynne has given much attention to defense, for Georgia may show the heaviest backfield assault the Plainsmen have faced all year. Injuries to key men caused Wynne to cancel plans for scrimmages and the bruised athletes have been carefully rounded into shape.

Auburn will face a psychological disadvantage Saturday for it has not beaten Georgia in a decade, not since the 7-to-3 win in 1922. Georgia also holds an edge in their 36 years of rivalry, for the Bulldogs have won 18 contests to Auburn's 15. Three ended in tie games.

Halfback Al Rogers, the best passer and punter on the Florida team, will not play against Georgia Tech in Gainesville, Fla., in the homecoming game Saturday. He was injured several weeks ago. There also is a possibility that Shearer, a tackle, may not be available.

Tulsa is heavily favored over Seawane, but close duels are anticipated in the other two conference games bringing together Duke and North Carolina and Washington and Lee and Maryland.

TOURNEY OFF.
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 17.—(UP) Announcement was made today that the state high school basketball tournament, held at the University of Tennessee for several years, had been abandoned this season. Pat Kerr, president of the Tennessee Secondary Schools Athletic Association, said the tournament was called off by the board of directors, principally because of lack of interest.

withdrawal from the scene. But Holy Cross looks to be too strong for Manhattan.

Michigan State-Detroit, at E. Lansing.
Detroit is no push-over for any one, but Michigan State, with Monnett and Korr, president of the Tennessee Secondary Schools Athletic Association, said the tournament was called off by the board of directors, principally because of lack of interest.

Georgia Tech should beat Florida. Pittsburgh is picked over Carnegie Tech. Duke has the jump on North Carolina. Tulane should win from Swane, and Purdue has too much up and down for Indiana to beat. Ohio State's strong and coming team has a tidy margin over Illinois.

Nebraska is picked to stop Oklahoma, although this will be no easy feat. Nebraska has one of the strong teams in the country but Oklahoma has put on a surprise more than once this fall.

COLORED TEAMS TO DRAW CROWD
A crowd estimated at 6,000 is expected to witness the 12th annual football game between Clark University and Morehouse College, at Ponce de Leon park, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The largest white crowd ever to witness a colored game here will be on hand, according to advance ticket sale. The prominence of this game is the fact that those who watched Carl Ray, a southpaw punter for the Clark team, turn in a brilliant performance against Tuskegee a few weeks ago, was thrilled at the unusual technique of the colored star, who is a triple threat of the highest type.

Chief Aiken, Clark's veteran coach, stated, "I would rather beat a Morehouse team than any team in the conference. It thrills me somehow to register a victory over my ancient rivals."

Pen meetings will be held at each school tonight.

Bonfires and torchlight parades will follow the week-end pep meetings and the entire populace of colored Atlanta is agog, anxiously waiting the referee's whistle that will again write another page in the athletic history of the two schools.

Colorado Teams Play for Infant

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Nov. 17.—Plans were under way here today for a benefit football game Thanksgiving Day to establish an endowment fund for the infant daughter of Ralph McClure, Colorado College halfback, who died yesterday from injuries suffered in a football game last Saturday.

As tentatively outlined, the Colorado School of Mines team would play its conference game with the Tigers. This game, scheduled for next Saturday, was cancelled yesterday by the Colorado College athletic board.

Colorado Springs businessmen and Colorado College supporters are sponsoring the proposed game.

Newnan, LaGrange To Meet Friday

NEWNAN, Ga., Nov. 17.—Newnan High meets LaGrange High at Newnan Friday.

Two great rivals meet here for the first time the two schools have met since 1930.

Owing to its superior weight and reserve strength LaGrange rules the favorite. Newnan, however, has a fleet of hard-running backs as well as a line that is above the high school average.

Added to this the home team is at its peak of the season. A great crowd is expected to view Coach Keller's boys put up a hard fight in behalf of Newnan High.

RUTHLESS KILLER KIDNAPS GIRL, 20

Young Woman Spends Night of Horror With Brutal Chicago Slayer.

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—(AP)—A night of horror lingered in the memory of a girl today as she recovered from the treatment she underwent at the hands of a ruthless kidnaper-killer who abducted her from her escort and boasted that he had just killed another woman's companion. She was forced to drive her ravisher about the streets for hours.

The girl victim, Lillian Henry, 20, niece of Deputy Police Commissioner John Alcock, described the killer as about 20 years old.

Police started a hunt tonight for James Varcha, 19, described by them as a dangerous criminal who escaped from the state school for epileptics at Dixon, Ill. His description fitted that of the killer, police said.

Miss Henry, who was held captive for four hours and twice attacked, furnished police with a description of him. She said he threatened to kill her and held a pistol against her side. The fugitive's terrorism began when he attempted to rob Frank F. Jordan, 38, seated in an automobile with a woman companion, Jordan moved to resist and promptly was shot to death.

Next he appeared at an automobile in which Miss Henry and James Guisinger were seated. He opened a door, flourished a weapon and entered the machine.

"He made Mr. Guisinger drive into an alley," Miss Henry said. "Then he tore the collar from my dress and used it to tie his hands. He gagged him with handkerchiefs and placed him in the rumble seat."

"We drove around for what seemed to be hours. He held the gun in his right hand, continually threatening us."

Miss Henry said the man released Guisinger near his home. He rode in the car almost to Miss Henry's home, then fled.

During the ride, she said, the abductor boasted of having been in prison. He said, she reported, that his mother died and a brother was shot and killed by a policeman while he was imprisoned.

Near where Jordan was killed was found a bullet similar to one with which James McMillan, a salesman, was wounded under similar circumstances a week ago.

Young Varcha's family told police they had not seen him for a month and that he had been arrested many times for robbery. His home was in the neighborhood where the killing and abduction took place.

Every available policeman was assigned to a wide south side area surrounding the scenes of the crime. Police Commissioner John Allan described the killing as "the most vicious in several years."

The girl victim, Lillian Henry, 20, niece of Deputy Police Commissioner John Alcock, described the killer as about 20 years old.

Police started a hunt tonight for James Varcha, 19, described by them as a dangerous criminal who escaped from the state school for epileptics at Dixon, Ill. His description fitted that of the killer, police said.

Miss Henry, who was held captive for four hours and twice attacked, furnished police with a description of him. She said he threatened to kill her and held a pistol against her side. The fugitive's terrorism began when he attempted to rob Frank F. Jordan, 38, seated in an automobile with a woman companion, Jordan moved to resist and promptly was shot to death.

Next he appeared at an automobile in which Miss Henry and James Guisinger were seated. He opened a door, flourished a weapon and entered the machine.

"He made Mr. Guisinger drive into an alley," Miss Henry said. "Then he tore the collar from my dress and used it to tie his hands. He gagged him with handkerchiefs and placed him in the rumble seat."

"We drove around for what seemed to be hours. He held the gun in his right hand, continually threatening us."

Miss Henry said the man released Guisinger near his home. He rode in the car almost to Miss Henry's home, then fled.

During the ride, she said, the abductor boasted of having been in prison. He said, she reported, that his mother died and a brother was shot and killed by a policeman while he was imprisoned.

Near where Jordan was killed was found a bullet similar to one with which James McMillan, a salesman, was wounded under similar circumstances a week ago.

Young Varcha's family told police they had not seen him for a month and that he had been arrested many times for robbery. His home was in the neighborhood where the killing and abduction took place.

Every available policeman was assigned to a wide south side area surrounding the scenes of the crime. Police Commissioner John Allan described the killing as "the most vicious in several years."

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—(AP)—A night of horror lingered in the memory of a girl today as she recovered from the treatment she underwent at the hands of a ruthless kidnaper-killer who abducted her from her escort and boasted that he had just killed another woman's companion. She was forced to drive her ravisher about the streets for hours.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE LAUNCHED BY LEGION

Atlanta Post No. 1, the American Legion, today will open its 1933 membership drive, with every former service man "on the spot" and the membership committee, of which Colonel R. K. Greene is chairman, gunning for the greatest membership in the history of this post.

Colonel Greene emphasized that the membership drive is not for number alone.

Colonel Greene has his membership committee organized and every medium for the dissemination of information has been rallied to the cause. Colonel Greene Thursday suggested that potential members get in touch with their friends on the membership committee and enroll.

The personnel of the committee on membership is as follows: Dr. Herbert B. Kennedy, chairman; Colonel R. K. Greene, Henry H. Green, George J. Potter, W. A. Simon, John M. Slaton, Joseph R. Cooke, General Walter E. Bare, Colonel T. S. Moorman, Dr. R. C. Eyer, Jesse Draper, Harry Story, J. Ross Tucker, Walter Eggett, Herbert D. Godner, William E. ## RED CROSS CAMPAIGN INDORSED BY SLATON

John M. Slaton Jr., manager of the United States veterans' bureau here, Thursday indorsed the Red Cross roll call now in progress in the state and stressed the importance of the Red Cross work in relation to the veteran.

"Though 14 years have passed since the signing of the armistice," he said, "that man who served in the armed forces of the United States during the great war still turn to the Red Cross for help in times of stress. Through its local chapters thousands of veterans in this state are served each month by the organization. Its representatives inform the veterans of their rights and assist them in making applications to the government for the many benefits made available through the veterans' administration."

Visits Brokers in Atlanta

Earl Johnson, general sales manager for Gerber's Products Company, packers of Gerber's Baby Foods, visited Atlanta Thursday. He is shown above with Roy Massey (left), of Massey & Fair, who act as Gerber's representatives in Atlanta. Mr. Johnson said that his firm's business is showing satisfactory increases and that he is looking for a much better year in 1933.

President-Elect's Mother Is Eighth To See Son Win Highest U.S. Honor

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(AP)—Franklin Delano Roosevelt's mother, Mrs. James Roosevelt, is the eighth woman to see her son elected president of the United States, an exhaustive study of historical records disclosed tonight.

The traditional dream of American women came true for her last week when she sat in a New York hotel and watched machines grind out a steady flow of election returns which soon spelled a victory.

At that time someone told her she was the first woman since Mary Washington to see her son elected president.

But a search through biographical records, genealogies, old wills and tombstone photographs has disclosed that gray-haired 78-year-old Mrs. Roosevelt shares the honor with seven other women.

The mother of George Washington lived until four months after her illustrious son's inauguration. She was 82 when she died.

Mrs. Susanna Adams died at the age of 83, six weeks after her son, John, became the second president of the United States.

Mrs. Nelly Madison, who came within two years of being a centenarian, lived 20 years after her son, James, was elected.

Mrs. Jane Polk not only saw her son, James, become president, but out-lived him.

Mrs. Harriett Grant lived for 14 years after her son went off to the White House, and she died just two years before he did.

When James A. Garfield was inaugurated he paused during the ceremony to embrace his aged mother, who sat on the platform beside him.

One of the prized pictures in historical museums is that of Mrs. Nancy McKinley sitting under a parasol at the inauguration of her son, William. Many of the presidents left for posterity glowing tributes to their mothers. Most celebrated is Lincoln's—"All I am or hope to be I owe to my angel mother."

Buchanan wrote that "any little distinction which I may have acquired" was the result of his mother's influence.

But in general, history has paid little attention to these women whose sons for 144 years have guided the nation.

In only a few biographies are they mentioned. Genealogical records in most cases fail to give the dates of their death.

In the case of President Andrew Johnson's mother, historians do not agree on the date of her death. She married again before her son became president and vanished from the records.

Complete biographies of the presidents' fathers have been preserved, however. Only four lived to see their sons receive the highest honor the nation can bestow.

The most recent was John Calvin Coolidge, who died while his son was still in the White House.

Jesse Grant had the distinction of serving as a postmaster under his son, President U. S. Grant.

LOWER INTEREST RATE IS SEEN FOR CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—(AP)—The Herald and Examiner said it had learned Chicago banks had agreed to cut interest rates on savings accounts from 3 to 2 1/2 per cent.

The reduction, the newspaper said, has been definitely agreed on in high financial circles and formal announcement is expected soon. January 1 was set by the Herald and Examiner as the date on which the reduction would become effective.
